

Imagine you are a baker. You will bake cookies and sell them to your neighbors. How much money do you think you can earn?

Pretend you are a teacher. You will teach your friends a new game. How would you feel if you got paid for teaching?

You are a gardener. You will help plant flowers in your neighbor's garden. How much would you charge for this job?

Think of yourself as a pet sitter. You will take care of your friend's dog while they are away. How much will you earn for this task?

Imagine you are a cashier at a toy store. You will help customers buy toys. What do you think your salary would be?

Pretend you are an artist. You will draw pictures and sell them at a school fair. How much money do you hope to make?

You are a car washer. You will wash cars in your neighborhood. How much would you charge for each car?

Think of yourself as a chef. You will cook meals for a family party. What would you charge for your services?

Imagine you are a librarian. You will help people find books they want to read. How much would you earn for a day's work?

Pretend you are a farmer. You will grow vegetables and sell them at a market. How much money do you think you can make from selling your vegetables?

